Lasting the full distance

Hand-built trailers top notch

THIS year has started in a rush for the team at Graystar Trailers.

It just proves that some operators appreciate a premium product with a top quality finish.

The fact that Graystar trailers are built for the demands of harsh Australian conditions is the icing on the cake.

They have found a niche in the market that is prepared to pay a little more for a trailer that will last the distance.

Premium quality materials and attention to detail are what really sets them apart from the others.

All trailers are literally hand built by a team that assembles them as if they were their own.

There are no mass production lines at Graystar Trailers.

Laminated-panel construction and sales are increasing at a steady rate.

They have found that there is an increasing market for the lightweight high quality panels that they manufacture. In the past, people have purchased inferior quality laminated panel because that was all that was available.

The capabilities of their laminating process are almost endless.

Just recently they laminated some lead-lined door and wall panels for a hospital X-ray room.

They are now in the process of building a bigger and better panel press.

This will allow them to double their production.

While production of new refrigerated semitrailers is the core of their business they also carry out repairs. Their experienced team has extensive knowledge of most trailer repairs.

Trailers are repaired with the same level of detail as new trailers.

The team can handle just about anything from small door repairs to total refurbishments.

They now stock a vast range of spare parts for other trailer brands.

They have found that word of mouth is a great advertising tool.

Happy clients are always quick to tell others.

Specialist service will keep you on the road

EADIES Mechanical is a modest, up-to-date garage servicing trucks, cars, trailers, F Series Fords and four-wheel drives of all descriptions from just about anywhere.

They are available throughout the year for all your mechanical needs including services, full major services, automatic transmission, and power steering flush, radiator and suspension services.

Eadies Mechanical has been part of Ipswich's business growth for more than 30 years.

The workshop is only 20 minutes from Rocklea and 100 metres from the Amberley Air Force Base.

They have plenty of parking and turning capabilities for trucks, and lunch room and showers are available.

Established by Doug Eadie and passed on to son Steve, the business has gone from strength to strength with a reputation built on superior workmanship and attention to detail.

Their commitment to Ipswich and the safety of its residents is evident.

Long-term clients of the family-friendly garage praise the Eadies team for their excellent customer service.

Eadies Mechanical are the wheel alignments and axle correction specialists.

They are among the leaders in their field in axle correction and wheel alignments.

They believe in educating drivers about the importance of correct wheel alignment geometry set up, for our left-hand-drive cambered roads unique to Australia.

Most mass produced vehicles brought into Australia have been designed for a world wide market, cars, trucks etc.

Most of the world drives on the right-hand side of the road and their roads are flat.

Truck axles need to be removed from the vehicle and have the camber and castor corrected in an axle press to stop pull left and left-hand outer camber wear.

Four-wheel drives with closed knuckle front diff assemblies, eg: Toyota and Patrol, don't have any camber or castor adjustment.

The fitment of an aftermarket castoline kit, which is an offset knuckle bearing will remedy the poor camber and castor settings.

So when buying a new vehicle, ask the question has the axle been corrected?

In the case of trucks, test drive your vehicle and make sure it doesn't pull left, or request that your vehicle be checked by a wheel alignment specialist.

The workshop is at 37, South Amberley Rd, Willowbank. Phone 5464 3413 for more information.
